English War Total Now Is $4,310,000,000

LONDON, June 15.—Gov. Major led the assault on bad roads to-day with a company of 25 convicts, four teams of mules and a motor truck from the pententiary. He was accompanied by Speaker Champ Clark.

The Governor's party is hauling gravel and filling up holes on the automobile drive to the County Club. He announced this morning that instead of working four consecutive days as he did last year, they will work today and tomorrow and postpone further operations until later in the summer, as farmers in some counties already have begun harvesting their wheat.

Reports from Montgomery and Kansas City said that the work had been called off there on account of the recent rains.

MOB IN AUTOS CHASE SHERIFF, LYNCH NEGRO

Slayer of Young Arkansas Planter Taken From Officer After Long Pursuit.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 15.—Loy Haley, the negro, who Saturday shot and killed Roy Lester, a young planter of Lafayette County, was taken by a mob from Sheriff Boyett of Hempstead County, and was lynched about 3 a. m. today somewhere in the woods between Hope and Louisville.

The mob, nearly 200 strong, overtook the Sheriff while he was in his automobile driving toward Little Rock to place the negro in the penitentiary for safe keeping.

Haley had been delivered over to Sheriff Boyett by Sheriff Jackson of Lafayette County, who captured Haley yesterday.

After being chased 20 miles by several automobiles filled with citizens bent on a lynching, Jackson eluded his pursuers and arrived at Hope. The mob learned that the negro was in jail there and several more cars were commanded in the rush to the Hempstead County seat. Sheriff Boyett started in his own car for Little Rock, but was overtaken and overpowered.

PRESIDENT WOULD EXCHANGE POSITIONS WITH HOTEL MAN

Boston Visitor at White House Tells of a Remark by the Executive.

BOSTON, June 15.—President Wilson would gladly change positions with Charles J. McCarthy, proprietor of the Quincy House, according to a letter received by Mayor Curley's secretary, Standish Willcox, from McCarthy, who is on his honeymoon.

On leaving on his wedding trip, McCarthy received from the Mayor a letter of introduction to the President's secretary, Joseph P. Tumulty, who arranged for an audience with the President for Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy.

"And so you are the proprietor of one of Boston's hotels," McCarthy said to the President as saying, "Well, do you know, I would very much enjoy exchanging positions with you right at this moment."

BOYS BURN CAT WITH GASOLINE

Boys Say They Tried to Set Him Adire When He Interfered.

The police are trying to learn the identity of several boys who yesterday afternoon bathed a cat in gasoline and then set a match to it, tail, and it to burn to death. The flames destroyed the shed.

The police learned of the affair with Mrs. Cora Healy of 2427 East Aragon avenue informed them her son, Lee Healy, 4 years old, had come home crying. His clothes were saturated with gasoline, she said, and he told her a crowd of boys had tried to burn him because he had told them they ought not to torture the cat. The cat where the cat was put to death was in the rear of 2400 Emerson avenue.

"Most of the Berlin papers say in effect that if the United States succeeds in removing the fundamental necessity of submarine warfare by inducing Great Britain to acknowledge the Declaration of London, everything will go well."

CAPTAIN TESTIFIES THAT LUSITANIA NEVER WAS ARMED

Tells at London Inquiry That Boats Were Swung Out When Danger Zone Was Reached.

SPEED OF SHIP REDUCED

Evidence as to Instructions Given by British Admiralty Is Taken in Private.

LONDON, June 15.—The Lusitania was not armed and never was fitted out as a transport, was one of the remarks made by Sir Edward Carson, Attorney-General for the new cabinet, in addressing the court this morning at the opening of the Board of Trade inquiry into the loss of the Cunard liner, which was sent to the bottom off the south coast of Ireland, May 7, by a German submarine, with a loss of 1,100 passengers, of whom 100 were Americans.

Sir Edward, president of the court of inquiry to investigate the sinking of the Lusitania, is assisted by Admiral Sir Frederick Englefield and Lieutenant-Commander Hearn as naval assessors, and Capt. Davies and Capt. Speeding of the Mercantile Marine. Attorney-General Carson and Frederick E. Smith, represented the Board of Trade, while the Cunard company and the passengers of the Lusitania, including the late Alfred G. Vanderbilt, all were represented by counsel.

Spectators Are Numerous.

Public interest in the case was evidenced by the large number of spectators who crowded the court. Almost simultaneously with the opening of the investigation news was received of the finding of two more bodies where the Lusitania sank. One was of a boy 16 years old and the other of a man. Neither was identified.

Sir Edward Carson, who opened for the Board of Trade, said he obtained the fullest inquiry. He was able to give complete denial to the contention of the German Government that the Lusitania was an armed vessel carrying guns and serving as an auxiliary to the naval forces of Great Britain.

"In their note to Germany," the speaker said, "the United States already have officially denied this and the evidence I propose to call will confirm and fully prove the remarks of the American Government that the Lusitania was not armed and that she never had been fitted out as a transport."

"Without warning, a German submarine fired two torpedoes at the Lusitania and it is believed that a third projectile also was fired. Such an act was not only contrary to international law, but it is contrary to the dictates of civilization and humanity. To sink passengers in this manner was a deliberate attempt at murder."

Question of Speed Important. Continuing, Sir Edward remarked that the question of speed will be important. The Lusitania was going 15 knots, using only 15 out of her 25 boilers in consequence of the decreased traffic, thus saving a quarter of her total coal consumption and a proportionate amount in labor.

Certain specific information was sent by the British Admiralty by wireless telegraphy to the Lusitania, but these instructions are not to be made public and this part of the evidence is to be taken in private.

"It is quite evident," said the Attorney-General "that one of the main questions for the consideration of the court will be these instructions and how far the captain of the Lusitania acted upon them."

"As a rule the first question to be decided in an investigation of this kind is how the accident occurred. In this case we know that there was a collision and that there was a premeditated design to murder. The main questions arising are only two: First, as to the navigation of the ship having regard to the instructions and information conveyed by the Admiralty, and second, as to whether everything was done that could be done after the ship was torpedoed."

Captain Takes the Stand. Captain Turner of the Lusitania, examined by the Attorney-General, said the ship was not armed, either for offense or defense, and carried no masked guns. He confirmed Sir Edward's statement as to the speed of the Lusitania and the number of her boilers in operation.

The captain estimated that 10 seconds after the Lusitania was struck it was impossible to stand on deck. He said the three difficulties in rescuing passengers were the list of the ship, her headway, which carried her two or three miles after being struck, and the shortness of time.

The captain testified he had given orders to look out for submarines, and to proceed at full speed if any were sighted. He said the boats had been swung out the morning of the day preceding the torpedoing. Two lookouts were placed in the crow's nest, two at the bows and two on deck on the bridge.

When asked whether the passengers were given help as far as they were able, he replied: "I should say."

He added, however, that the passengers showed a desire to assist in every way possible. Speaking of modern steamship hands, the captain said they were not as efficient as the old-fashioned sailors, who would have been more effective in the work of rescue. He said he did not see Mr. Vanderbilt.

Big Jack Munroes Wounded in War. OTTAWA, June 15.—John A. Munroes, better known as Big Jack Munroes, former prize fighter, whose bout with Jim Jeffries created wide attention, has been seriously wounded in the European war. He enlisted as a member of Prince Patrick's regiment, at North Bay, Ontario.

J. P. MORGAN'S SON AND DAUGHTER OF COMPOSER MARRY

Former Louise Converse Can Cook and Keep House; Sculptress and Musician.

BEDHAM, Mass., June 15.—Junius Spencer Morgan, son of J. P. Morgan of New York, and Miss Louise Converse, daughter of Frederick S. Converse, a well known composer of Boston, were married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church here today. The ceremony was witnessed by about 300 friends and relatives.

The bride's mother is one of the old fashioned kind who believes in giving her daughters old fashioned training. The result is that the new Mrs. Morgan can cook and keep house far better than the average girl.

Last year she studied sculpture at the school of the Museum of Fine Arts and in the music room of the Converse home stands the drooping figure of a woman, which is her work. She apparently does not care for it.

Mr. Morgan also is a musician. She has the advantage of instruction from her father, who wrote the operas "The Sacrifice" and "The Pipe of Desire," and who composed the music for the Masses of St. Louis, produced last year.

LOSS OF DIRIGIBLE MAY CAUSE CHANGE OF DESIGN

Zeppelins Assistants Think Less Weight Should Be Carried So They Will Rise Quickly.

ROMANSHORN, Switzerland, June 15.—The exploit of the Canadian aviator, Lieut. R. A. J. Warneford, in destroying a Zeppelin in Berlin last week, may result in a change in design of Zeppelins manufactured hereafter.

Some of the engineers at the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen have been at issue with Count Zeppelin on the question whether the dirigibles could be attacked successfully by aeroplanes. The Count's technical assistants had insisted that the Zeppelins of the newest model should carry less weight in men and bombs, so as to be able to rise more rapidly, if attacked by aeroplanes. The Count, however, dissented from this view, deciding there was no danger of successful attack.

Count Zeppelin is expected to arrive at Friedrichshafen shortly, and the question of changing the design of the dirigibles probably will be reopened.

ONLY A SCORE OF AMERICANS STAYING IN BIG LONDON HOTELS

LONDON, June 15.—A census of six big hotels in London, taken today by a Post-Dispatch correspondent, disclosed the fact that only a score of Americans were staying at these hostilities, whereas a year ago they had approximately 1,500 American guests and fully 1,500 transient Americans were in London.

This summer, according to one hotel manager, will see the "smallest consumption of cocktails and the least use of ice ever recorded in the British capital."

The only persons, however, who are glad that Americans are remaining home are the United States officials. It was the sinking of the Lusitania which finally put an end to the hope of a prosperous tourist season, according to a spokesman for the British government.

"We are confident that Lloyd-George can be trusted to survey the contract from a business point of view, and if it should be found necessary to have it altered."

German West African Town Taken.

LONDON, June 15.—Garuia, an important German station on the Benue River, German West Africa, surrendered unconditionally to the Anglo-French forces June 11. The attack against the station began May 31.

Italian Poet Called to Colors.

ROME, June 15.—The Giornale d'Italia says that Gabriele d'Annunzio the poet, has received an order to rejoin his regiment, in which he is a second Lieutenant.

representations are unsuccessful, she may repeat them. Whether the German submarine warfare can be moderated depends solely on the attitude of England.

Italian Report Complaints of Austrian Brigandage.

ROME, June 15.—Charged that the Austrian military authorities are fostering brigandage in districts to the rear of the advancing Italian army are contained in an official statement issued to-night at the War Office. The communication follows:

"It is certain that Austria has left in territory actually occupied by us emissaries who have been given orders to practice brigandage. Men of the land-sturms, gendarmes and forest guards are involved.

"These men have fired here and there and continue to fire into the backs of our troops, at isolated soldiers and officers and provost convoys.

"These brigands even have fired at doctors while they were treating wounded, upon the wounded themselves and upon ambulance staffs."

Admiralty Denies That the Agamemnon was Sunk.

LONDON, June 15.—Official denial was made today of the report circulated in the United States that the British battleship Agamemnon had been sunk in the Dardanelles by a German submarine.

It was further announced that no other unit not already officially reported, had been lost at the Dardanelles.

"There is no justification for the joyfulness," says Bernhard, "because of the essential differences which exist between Germany and the United States. Not one of these differences has been removed by the exchange of notes. Of course we are pleased that the United States is willing to submit to England all of our commissions, but we have no new commissions."

"America told us she would take the initiative in preventing England from a future misuse of naval warfare. This is a growing desire for a revision of the law."

Meyer Gerhard in Norway on Way to Von Jagow

Iles, and his followers have won an overwhelming victory in the Greco-Serbian elections. The latest news claims a majority of two-thirds for the war party in Parliament. The British press is of the opinion that this means no longer necessary and may be done.

"We put on one side for the present the allegations that the Canadian manufacturers have been obliged to negotiate with their own imperial Government through this neutral firm. There are apparently well-founded stories to this effect, but we prefer to lay no stress on them in the absence of official confirmation.

"What does seem undoubtedly to be the case is that we are deprived of the services of some of the United States munition firms because these firms either cannot or will not deal with Morgan. Our position is simply that we want to deal with every manufacturer who is willing to make for us or sell to us. If there are, as is stated, manufacturers in the United States who can not deal through Morgan, except on prohibitory terms, then it would be better for a fresh arrangement to be made."

"We are confident that Lloyd-George can be trusted to survey the contract from a business point of view, and if it should be found necessary to have it altered."

German official reports represent recent fighting on the River San in Galicia as having resulted in a great victory for von Mackensen, who has effectively countered the Russian blow at Zurawna, on the Dniester River.

Italian heavy artillery has begun the bombardment of Maliborgi, one of the pivots of the Austrian defenses between the Carnic Alps and the Upper Isonzo River. Tarvis, an important railroad junction, 12 miles further east, also is threatened.

Reports from Paris make mention of slight progress all along the line, but nothing is said of the situation north of Arras, where the Germans have rallied and recaptured some of their lost trenches.

German official reports represent recent fighting on the River San in Galicia as having resulted in a great victory for von Mackensen, who has effectively countered the Russian blow at Zurawna, on the Dniester River.

The extent of the new Austro-German victory in Galicia is in doubt. Although Berlin and Vienna assert the whole Russian line over a 45-mile front north and east of Przemysl was broken down, it is said officially at Petrograd that the Russians recaptured on Sunday almost all the advanced trenches north of Przemysl lost on Saturday. Further south, in the region of the Wissaria River, successes for the Teutonic forces are acknowledged.

An announcement from the Turkish War Office claims a victory over the Russians in the Transcaucasus. The Turks, it is said, occupied Russian positions in the direction of Olti, near the Russian border.

The British trawler Argyll was torpedoed and sunk today by a German submarine.

Of the crew of 11 men only four were saved. These were landed at Harwich on the east coast. The Argyll was sent to the bottom without warning and went down in less than two minutes.

LLOYD-GEORGE TO INSPECT MORGAN WAR CONTRACTS

"One of the most urgent problems to which the Minister of Munitions will turn his attention is the term of the contract by which J. P. Morgan & Co., the great New York banking firm, is acting for the British Government in the purchase of munitions in America.

"Questions have been raised from time to time on this matter in the House of Commons, but no particulars have been given in reply. In the meantime, there is a growing desire for a revision of the law."

FIVE PAPERS OUT OF 142 APPROVE BRYAN'S ACTION

Others Support President in Controversy Which Caused Secretary of State to Resign.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, June 15.—Since the resignation of William Jennings Bryan from the portfolio of Secretary of State last Tuesday a great number of editorial expressions from newspapers printed in English throughout the rest of the United States have been published.

The Springfield Republican, one of the most powerful newspapers of Massachusetts and long respected throughout the country for its conservatism, independence and accuracy, said: "Mr. Bryan has stood by his convictions . . . and the thinking people of the United States will respect him for it."

The Pittsburgh Leader, a journal of considerable circulation and independent in politics, said: "Mr. Bryan's position is correct."

The Boston Herald, another independent, takes this view: "Mr. Bryan has made the re-election of President Wilson extremely improbable."

The Wheeling (W. Va.) Register, Democratic in politics, said: "Mr. Wilson will lose a wise and capable counsellor, but Mr. Bryan is so much a Democrat and patriot that he would not do, could, do anything to embarrass the administration."

The Lincoln (Neb.) Star, published in Mr. Bryan's own home town, said: "Whatever else may be said, Mr. Wilson was eminently consistent. Being out of harmony with the President, there was nothing to do but resign."

CAR COMPANIES IN CHICAGO REJECT STATE MEDIATION

Officials Hold Meeting and Refuse Offer of Arbitration Board in Strike.

"L" TRAINS OPERATED

Missiles Hurled Through Windows—Citizens Ride in Ice and Coal Wagons.

CHICAGO, June 15.—June sunshine cheered the army of Chicagoans who went to their occupations today in automobiles, vans, delivery wagons, and on foot.

The suburban service of the steam railroads, upon which an unprecedented burden was thrust by the street car strike yesterday, provided accommodations today and the carnival spirit which was not crushed by the cold drizzling rain of yesterday, was still in evidence.

At the Gross Park Station of the Chicago & Northwestern, a large crowd which had been unable to obtain a foothold on earlier trains, or even to buy tickets, broke through a barbed wire fence onto the station platform and swarmed on the train. Thirty men found seats in the coal tenders and 10 more in the engine cab, the running boards and the cowcatchers. It was all done good naturedly, and accepted by the train crew in the same humor.

Elevated trains at the northern and southern terminals started out at 9 o'clock with detectives, but few passengers aboard. It was stated that an attempt to maintain a 15-minute schedule would be made until nightfall.

One South Side train was made the target of a big plank thrown from a fire escape and a window of another one was smashed by a brick thrown from a roof.

A man standing on the roof of a building near Eighteenth street hurled a brick into a car containing 20 passengers. No one was injured.

An air bomb was thrown this afternoon from a building at Wells and West Kinzie streets. It smashed a window of a northbound elevated train, but did no other damage.

No attempts to run surface cars were made today. Strikers congregated in an orderly manner at the barns and terminals.

Rioting or any serious disorder was absent, but police continued on guard at the car barns throughout the city to prevent violence. The only trouble reported within the last 24 hours was when a strike sympathizer buried a missile in an elevated train. It struck a detective who was acting as a guard. He was slightly cut by broken glass.

State Arbitration Offered.

The Illinois State Board of Arbitration is preparing to take action at once toward a settlement of the strike. The board sent communications to officials of the traction companies and union leaders offering State arbitration.

The presidents of the two traction companies, after a conference, rejected the offer on the grounds that several "fair" offers for this method of settlement had been refused by the unions, including a previous one by the board itself. The unions apparently were paying no attention to the offer.

The aldermanic committee, of which Mayor Thompson is chairman, assumed complete charge of the situation in so far as the city government is concerned, in an effort to effect an immediate settlement. The committee was appointed at a meeting of the City Council last night. The Council also passed an ordinance seeking to prohibit the employment of strike breakers, but it was voted today that it would not go into effect for several days if signed by the Mayor.

The ordinance did not prohibit the employment of a motorman unless he had 10 days of instruction. With conductors, 4 days' instruction is demanded. The instructors must be men with three years of experience and must have been employed for the preceding 12 months on lines in Chicago.

Dispatches from New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston and Cleveland said that labor bureaus in those cities had been commissioned to enlist experienced men to operate the surface cars and that large numbers would be started to-night for Chicago. Good wages were promised.

Ice and Coal Wagons in Service.

But signs giving the destination and charge for rides were posted today on motor buses and ice wagons, motor-driven coal wagons, furniture trucks and "itneys" which continued a rushing business. The standard price of being carried two miles or more was 10 cents. If one stood, where improvised seats were provided, 15 and 25 cents was charged.

Contrary to expectations, downtown theaters did a rushing business last night, but the amusement parks in the outlying districts lost heavily. The largest of the amusement parks, it was announced, will remain closed until the strike is settled. Others are expected to close.

Shops Close Due to Telephone.

Managers of big department stores reported today that the reduction in yesterday's business was small. They said the volume of business was not much off normal, as thousands had stopped by telephone. The telephone company had an increase of 50 per cent in its number of calls.

STUDENT HOME WITHOUT BRIDE OF "ROYAL DESCENT"

Yale Senior Who Married Mrs. Alma Hayne and Sailed for Europe Back Alone.

NEW YORK, June 15.—On the passenger list of the Cunarder Orduna, in from Liverpool, was the name of D. S. Andrews. The passenger was asked if he was Donald Andrews. Andrews was Donald Andrews, the son who married Mrs. Alma V. Hayne last April and sailed with her for Europe on May 15.

He scowled at his questioner and denied his identity, but eventually admitted it. When asked where his bride was and why she had not returned with him, he replied: "I won't say a d—word." To all other questions he made a similar reply.

It was in the face of vigorous popular opposition that young Andrews married the woman who says the ill-fated Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria was her father. A Justice of the Peace of Mamaroneck performed the ceremony. Then the couple engaged passage on the St. Paul without telling anyone of their intentions.

Tells of Her Parentage.

In an interview given some months before her marriage, Mrs. Hayne said:

"I am the natural daughter of the dead Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria and of Baroness Marie Vetsera, whom he loved but could not marry. The world knows the story of their love and of their sad deaths in 1888. Both were suicides. Marie was found lying on a couch covered with flowers, the Prince dead beside her."

"My son, Rudolph," she said, "is the natural heir to the throne of Austria, but no claim for it will ever be made on his behalf. He is to be an American citizen, nothing more."

In Trenton is filed all of the life history of Alma V. Hayne, which is of record. In the courts there is the certificate of her boy.

The report of the master recommending a decree of divorce for desertion. The husband did not appear. The wife swore he had heaped indignities upon her and had left her in a hotel in Montreal with an unpaid hotel bill.

In other paragraphs of the testimony it was shown that Mrs. Hayne had been in this country 12 years, that she had been born in Lembeck, Austria, and that Hayne had married her in Toronto. On the son's birth certificate the maiden name of the mother is given as "Alma Vetsera."

Mother Followed Him.

Andrews' parents live in Cleveland. When they heard of his love for the foreign-born charmer, his mother hurried to this city and did all she could to prevent the marriage. It is said detectives even went so far as to lock the young man in his room pending the arrival of the mother.

When Mrs. Andrews got here she took her son with her to New Haven. There she eluded her vigilance and came back to this city. The mother lost no time in following him, but the marriage took place.

IHSEN TESTIFIES IN TRIAL OF PATTERSON FOR BLACKMAIL

Peter Ihsen of 4356 Cook avenue, 53 years old, Danish Consul in St. Louis, and proprietor of a candy store at 812 Olive street, testified yesterday afternoon, in Judge Jones' court, at the trial of Frederick W. Patterson of 1414 Ohio avenue, said to be a private detective, who is accused of having blackmailed Ihsen.

Ihsen repeated the story he has told heretofore that, by accusing him of improper conduct with an 18-year-old youth, Patterson obtained from him, at different times since last August, two notes, the amount of which Ihsen did not state, which Ihsen paid; then a note for $150, which he paid; and later two notes for $300; and that he informed Patterson's application for a loan of $300 from the Industrial Loan Association. He got the later notes and the endorsement, Ihsen said, by representing that one Frederick W. Dauser, who was with Patterson when the charge against Ihsen was first made, was threatening exposure.

Dauser and Edward C. Butler, the latter the youth who figured in Patterson's charge against Ihsen, are under arrest, and will be tried separately. James M. Rollins, attorney for the three, outlined his defense in the Patterson case to the jury after Ihsen had testified yesterday afternoon, and said that he would show that Ihsen had not been blameless.

FREE INSTRUCTION FOR THE DEAF

A general invitation to deaf children to attend the summer school conducted by the Central Institute for the Deaf, at Westminster place and Vandeventer avenue, has been issued by Miss Ethel M. Hillard. While the children will be given free instruction, they will also serve as subjects of study for the four weeks' normal training course opened at the institute today.

The summer course is for teachers only, and will be attended by members of the faculty of state institutions for the deaf in Missouri, Iowa, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Minnesota.

POLICE STOP ROW OVER SALOON

Ownership Claimed by Two. Fight Follows Attempt to Get Possession.

The proprietorship of a saloon at 1016 South Fourth street was not determined to the satisfaction of the two claimants yesterday afternoon and the police took charge. Rudolph W. Wagner was presiding over the bar when Fred Torp, 47 years old, of 1005 South Broadway and his son, Fred Torp Jr., 28, of 1238 Chouteau avenue, entered and announced they had come to take charge. Mrs. Fred Torp Sr., who is separated from her husband, was present and sided with Wagner.

After a row in which a revolver was drawn and Wagner and his followers were ejected, Wagner appealed to the police and the two Torps were arrested.

Three Automobiles Stolen.

Three automobiles were stolen last night. The machines belonged to Oliver H. Kegley of 5521 Eitel avenue; W. Bond of the Buckingham Club, and Mark C. Steinberg of 1036 Waterman avenue.

Shoe Costs Visitor $5.50.

Clinton Maddox of Decatur, Ill., told the police that when he was having his shoes shined at Third and Lombard streets yesterday afternoon he was robbed of $5.50 by pickpockets. He said there was a crowd around the stand.

The Post-Dispatch today publishes the first list of contributors to the Free Ice and Pure Milk Fund for saving the babies of poor residents of St. Louis. It demonstrates with clearness the positive hold the cause has upon the hearts of girls and boys, women and men of the city, and foreshadows a summer of active, widespread interest and generous financial results. With the money thus well assured and intelligent machinery for its application to the best uses, infant mortality is expected to be materially lowered.

Among the contributors are several very young children. Enthusiasm for the philanthropy is not hedged by age limits. "A Poor Man" gave 20 cents, a sum that perhaps represented more to him than that many dollars to the great majority of men.

Another contribution of 82 cents was made by Frederick H. Levin, Alice Sizix, Ralph Hause, Adeline and M. Leesky.
These are small children with hearts of the right sort, who write: "We have made this money by selling lemonade."
Gladys and Evelyn Winter, Annabelle and Lucille Hoerr, Agnes First and Margaret Hulser are little Camellias residing in the 4000 block of Camelia avenue.
They heard the call for money to provide pure milk and free ice for the babies in the tenement districts and set out to do what they could to meet the demand, the result being $3 collected.

Aileen Mayer of 4515 McPherson avenue, Rosina Isaacs of 4511 McPherson avenue and Harold Sebina of 4515 Mc-Pherson avenue, began early to make their membership in the Post-Dispatch Free Ice and Pure Milk League mean something more than satisfaction to themselves. The result of their initial activity this season was $4.88, a sum earned "by having a bazaar in front of our apartment."

"It will not be long," they continue in the note forwarding the money, "until it will be warm, and the poor little babies will be needing ice and milk. We had lots of fun earning this small amount, and we hope before the summer is over to send you a check for twice as much."

Elizabeth Dickson Harris, Sarah Mc-
Fall Williams, Grace Moulton, Frances Caulfield, Florence Parker Williams,
Suzie May Woods, Julia Kilpatrick, Alice Sheehan and John Caulfield are children residing on the 6200 block of Washington Avenue. They recently devoted a little of their play time to selling flowers for the free ice and pure milk fund,
from which they earned $1.00.

The Bliss Bird Club, a social band of seven girls, including Misses Virginia
Frankel, Ruth Russack, Louise Strauss,
Marion Epstein, Marion Freedman,
Dorothy Ladd and Elsie Rothchild.
"We sincerely hope that this will help to buy milk for the poor sick babies," they write in sending $5 to the Post-Dispatch.

tains and rivers with fishing galleys.

Orphans' Home Festival Sunday.
The annual spring festival for the benefit of the German Protestant Orphans' Home, on the St. Charles Road, will be held on the grounds of the home
next Sunday. The Rev. Theodore Braun of the Holy Ghost Evangelical Church, Grand and Page avenues, will deliver an address in German and Henry S.
Caulfield will deliver an address in English.

A New Neatly Dressed
Will give an audience on his appearance.
By following the Merchants' Announce-

IMMUNITY FOR BILLARD, WITNESS IN NEW HAVEN CASE

Former Director of Road One of 20 Indicted; Testified Before Federal Commission.

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, June 15.—The Federal District Court today granted immunity to John E. Billard, former director of the New Haven, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co., who was indicted with 20 other directors, past and present, for alleged criminal violation of the antitrust law.

Billard claimed immunity on the ground he had testified before the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Federal grand jury, which, in 1912, indicted Charles S. Mellen, then president of the New Haven road; President Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. and Chairman Smithers, on charges of conspiracy.

The Court denied the Government's motion that a judgment of conviction be entered against Edward D. Robbins, a director and former counsel of the New Haven road, because of the overruling of Robbins' plea in bar to the indictment. This, it was assumed, would result in Robbins' entering a plea to the indictment and standing trial.

Billard is head of the J. L. Billard Co., whose name was brought into the investigation of the Boston & Maine stock deals.

MILITARY SERVICE URGED FOR MEN FROM 18 TO 45

National Security League Has Proposed Before It a Form of Committee Report.

NEW YORK, June 15.—An executive session of the delegates to the Peace and Preparation conference was called for this afternoon, when it was expected that recommendations would be submitted.

The purpose of the conference, which began yesterday, was "to inquire into the necessary steps which should be taken for adequate defense and if necessary to urge upon the President of the United States the need of calling a special session of Congress."

One of the suggestions before the delegates was contained in the report of the Militia Committee of the National Security League, under whose auspices the conference was held. This committee proposed the enrollment and military instruction of every able-bodied man in the United States between the ages of 18 and 45, and enactment of national laws to put the plan in operation.

RAILWAY CAR MANUFACTURERS TO MAKE SHELLS FOR RUSSIA

Philadelphia Company Said to Have Received Orders for Millions of Dollars Worth.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The J. G. Brill Company here, manufacturers of street and railway cars and trucks, has received an order from the Russian Government for millions of dollars worth of steel shells was announced today.

Officials declined to talk about the matter, but employees in the Brill shops say that the company has been turning out large quantities of shrapnel for foreign distribution and that Canadian representatives of the Russian Government are supervising the making of the shells.

The shells, all of which many field kitchen trucks, field hospital ambulances, ammunition wagons and other types of war time conveyances are being made.

JUDGE REFUSES TO PERMIT SAVANNAH TO BE ANOTHER RENO

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 15.—The pleadings of a woman who is divorced did not change the determination of Judge Walter G. Charlton not to permit Savannah to be made another Reno for the benefit of residents of other states.

When the suit of Mrs. E. G. Carroll of Charleston, N. C., came on for a hearing the plaintiff casually mentioned that she came to Savannah for the purpose of securing a divorce. Judge Charlton at once directed the dismissal of the case. Mrs. Carroll pleaded with the court to permit the case to go to trial, but Judge Charlton said that under his oath he could not permit it.

WORK ON CONSTITUTION BEGUN

New York Convention Debates Method of Electing Legislature.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 15.—Having devoted nine weeks to the receipts of proposals, the constitutional convention yesterday finally began its first big debate on the floor. It was on the report of the Legislative Committee opposing any change in the present form or method of electing the Legislature.

The report, if adopted, would dispose of all propositions looking to the election of senators at large, changes in the terms of the legislators and combination of the Senate and Assembly.

"COUNT" LESCHINSKY SHADOWED

He Complains to the Police About Private Detectives at Home.
"Count" Leschinsky, J. Leschinsky's of 220 Skinner road, called at police headquarters yesterday afternoon and asked protection from private detectives. He and his wife are suing each other for divorce.

"My wife is trying to get evidence against me," he said. The "Count" was advised to arm himself with a baseball bat and use it on the heads of the men who were shadowing him. While at headquarters the visitor looked through the rogues' gallery.

WHY J. P. MORGAN SOLD EQUITABLE STOCK TO DUPONT

Many Millions of Capital Needed in Financing Firm's Enormous War Contracts.

How Dupont Corporation Financed Equitable Home

NEW YORK, June 15.—THE Equitable Building was erected by the Equitable Office Building Corporation, a stock corporation controlled by T. Coleman DuPont, at a cost of $30,000,000 in round figures.

Hugh McAtamney, DuPont's representative, says mortgages for $35,000,000 have been placed upon it.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society, now controlled by DuPont, holds a first mortgage of $20,500,000; second mortgages total $4,500,000.

Estimated maximum income from the Equitable Building, $8,000,000 annually.

Estimated annual expenses of the Equitable office building corporation something under $2,000,000 annually.

By Leased Wire From the New Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 15.—J. P. Morgan's desire for new capital with which to swing the enormous war contracts passing through his firm is said to have been the impelling reason behind the sale by him of control of the Equitable Life Assurance Society to Gen. T. Coleman DuPont of the famous powder-making firm of that name.

Through their ownership in various corporations manufacturing munitions of war, the DuPont family has millions in contracts placed through the Morgan firm. In a way, therefore, Wall street is inclined to say that Dupont bought the Equitable with gunpowder.

The sale of the Equitable by Morgan is in line with the policy he adopted soon after the death of his father. In the closing years of the latter's life he looked many millions up in non-productive investments.

$10,000,000 Back in Business.

Since he became the head of the house the son has returned to the business not less than $10,000,000 of the capital his father put into other things. The full amount may be nearer $15,000,000.

Persons close to him say it is his intention to place many more millions back into the firm, which is now doing the biggest banking business in the history of the United States.

It is estimated it has placed and has the placing of contracts for the allies that will total close to $1,000,000,000.

Ordinary banking commissions on this will run into the tens of millions, and the guaranteeing and financing of companies by those taking them may be expected to produce tens of millions more.

In the circumstances Wall street sees very clearly why Morgan should use as much of his money as possible.

Dupont's $30,000,000 Loan.

There was yet another reason why Dupont should take over the Equitable stock. He has, through the company which erected the new Equitable building, something like $21,000,000 in loans from the society, a large item to one interest, and Morgan, it is said, was unable to see why he should continue to carry it at a heavy loss each year, while Dupont was getting an accommodation.

The sale of Gen. Dupont's powder holdings, with the aid of the Bankers' Trust Co., a Morgan institution, was the result, the money thus freed becoming available for the purchase of the Morgan stock. This in turn became available for use in connection with the huge war contracts the Morgan firm has with the allies.

DIVORCED WIFE OF W. H. MILLENBERGER WEDS C. S. ELLIOTT

She Won Decree and $100 a Month Alimony From Realty Promoter 3 Years Ago.

Mrs. Jeanette Miltenberger of 5837 Plymouth avenue, who three years ago obtained a divorce from William H. Miltenberger, a realty promoter, was married at 10 o'clock this morning to Charles S. Elliott of 5792 Westminster avenue, vice president of the Mack Elliott Paper Co., 430 North Third street.

Miltenberger suffered a nervous breakdown two years ago and has been a patient at Alexian Brothers' Hospital ever since.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. H. F. Holton, pastor of the Delmar Congregational Church, in his home, 5795 Berlin avenue, in the presence of the bride's family. Shortly afterward the couple left for a 10-day trip to Chicago. They will make their home at Elliott's residence on Westminster place.

$5,000,000 CONTRACT TO MAKE SHELLS FOR ALLIES IS REFUSED

Buffalo Manufacturers Declares He Will Not Help to Prolong European War.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 15.—Contending that the manufacture of munitions of war by an American firm for foreign warring nations, is a direct violation of the cardinal principle of neutrality, Aldrich Manufacturing Co. today refused to accept an order from representatives of the allies for 200,000 brass shells, which would cost $5,000,000. "We'll get the shells made all right," one of the British agents told T. A. Aldrich, president of the concern, "and the contract will be let in Buffalo, too."

"You'll not get them made in our plant," retorted Aldrich. "My conscience will not permit me to make munitions of war for any other country than my own. I'll not help to prolong the European war."

The ship had almost circumnavigated the globe when she dropped anchor here.

SAYS WIFE PUT SAND IN AUTO

Charles A. Morick, a retired realty lawyer, alleges in a cross bill filed in Judge Rassier's court yesterday that his wife, Mrs. Mary Ann Morick of 365 Cool avenue, plaintiff in divorce proceedings, put sand in the oil tank of his automobile upon one occasion and at another time punctured the tires with a poker.

According to the wife's petition, Morick would not take her racing except when she insisted upon going and that he then failed to provide ice in the summer and would permit no fire in the winter except in the kitchen range. Mrs. Morick says her husband is worth $50,000, but Morick declares she has overestimated it at $75,000.

BOY, 13, KILLED BY AUTO WHEN ON AN ERRAND

W. H. Hauchulte Says Frank Krupinski Stepped in Path of His Car.

Frank Krupinski, 13 years old, of 1719 North Eighth street, was run down and killed at Broadway and O'Fallon street at 6:15 o'clock last night by the automobile of William H. Hauchulte of 1109 Penrose street, a real estate dealer and former Circuit Clerk. Hauchulte was arrested and released on a common law bond.

The body of the boy was taken to the morgue, where it was identified by Mrs. Anton Krupinski, the mother.

Hauchulte was driving north on Broadway. He says the boy stepped from behind a southbound car. He was struck by the left headlight and knocked to the street. The left wheel passed over his body, crushing his chest. Hauchulte picked him up and drove to the Carr Street Police Station. From there the boy was taken in a patrol wagon to the city dispensary, where it was found that he was dead. Hauchulte said he was not driving fast and stopped within ten feet after the boy was struck.

Mr. Krupinski had sent the boy on an errand. When he did not return she went in search of him. At 9 o'clock she learned from a policeman that a boy had been killed and went to the morgue.

Hauchulte, greatly distressed over the accident, said he would do all humanly possible to stone. He said he would pay the expenses of the funeral and compensate the parents further and do everything in his power to comfort them. The boy was a pupil of the Douglass School.

"PSYCHIC KNOCKOUT." ONE OF WAR'S EFFECTS, OSLER SAYS

"Shell Shock Paraplegia" Another of the New Nervous Disorders—Tobacco a Factor in Troubles.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Sir William Osler, Regius professor of medicine at Oxford, writing under date of May 20 to the Journal of the American Medical Association, gives an interesting sidelight on the war from the medical point of view. Types of nervous disorders, seen very rarely in this country or in Europe, he says, have manifested themselves as a result of the extraordinary stress and strain of the trench fighting. One of the disorders is a temporary paralysis without actual injury, called "shell shock paraplegia."

Another is the "psychic knockout," a temporary affliction in which the victim remains in a stuporous state with loss of memory and complete speechlessness or stammering.

In many cases tobacco is a factor, unseasoned soldiers being unable to withstand excesses.

McManus Advertising Co. of Detroit Changes Its Name.

It will be news to the advertising world to learn that the name of the McManus Co. of Detroit, known from coast to coast as one of the largest advertising agencies in the world, has just changed its name to the Power, Alexander & Jenkins, Co. The change of name was made only so that the officers of the corporation—the men who are responsible for its welfare, might be more prominently identified with it. The man at the helm is William S. Power, president; Kirk B. Alexander, vice-president and general manager, and W. H. Haddon, secretary, have been head and foremost in operating the business. Charles E. Will is treasurer of the company. The directors of the company are the officers and Louis Long, Wetmore Hodges and Charles P. Fletcher. The company handles the advertising of the Ford Motor Co., both American and Canadian corporations; the Paige-Detroit, the Abbott-Detroit, Henderson Motor Cycle, the Dole Electric Starter, the John J. Bagley & Co. Tobacco Co., the Carmichael Chemical Co., the White Star Refining Co. and many other accounts of equal importance. It is said that there are few advertising men in the United States that the members of the firm do not know personally.

While playing "conquer the leader" in the hayloft of his father's farm in the hayloft of his father's farm last Sunday George F. Miller, Jr., 4 years old, of Fern Ridge, St. Louis County, was seriously injured when two prongs of a pitchfork penetrated his chest.

George and his four older cousins were on a ledge eight feet above the barn floor, while his sister, Elmira, 6 years old, was placing hay in a pile on which all were to jump. Elmira had dropped the pitchfork near the pile of hay. One of the children pushed George from the ledge and he fell to the floor and rolled onto the pitchfork.

RUSSIAN BALLET, 200 STRONG, MAY VISIT ST. LOUIS

Itinerary of Imperial Organization of 200 Members Now Being Chosen.

As a sequel to the recent visit of Otto
H. Kahn, New York banker and backer of grand opera, it is likely that arrangements will be made within the next few weeks, to bring to St. Louis next winter
the Serge de Diaghilev Imperial Ballet Russia.

Ben Stern, representing John Brown, comptroller of the New York Metropolitan Opera Co., was in St. Louis yesterday.
He announced that the Ballet Russia,
in its tour of the United States, early in 1916, will visit 14 cities. Four of them will be New York, Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia. St. Louis, it is believed, will be one of the cities.

Stern said the entire troupe would number 200 members, with an orchestra of 70, and that the expense of bringing it to this country would be not less than $500,000. The stars of the ballet are Nijinsky, heralded as the leading man dancer of the present generation, and the danseuses, Karsavina, Fokina, and Fokin.

The ballet will appear for a four weeks' season at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, displacing the Metropolitan opera company, which will go to Boston or Chicago for that period.
It will then begin a tour.

The scenic effects are described by Stern as surpassing anything thus far seen in ballet exhibitions. The scenery and costumes were created by Leon Bakst, noted colorist. The problem of a theater for these performances—St.
Louis not possessing a house fully adapted to the purpose—will probably be solved by the choice of the Odeon. Next March will probably be the time of the ballet's appearance here, and the performances will be chosen from a repertory including 12 European programs.

REDS SELL DOUGLASS.

INVESTIGATE and INVEST NOW!!

Absolute Clean Up!!

Over 4000 fine Suits are affected by this drastic and irresistible clean-up. The commanding reason for this is made this season are the poor work of Umpire Clark behind the bat. Benten won the game, but the rule of the bat in the Benton half of the fourth inning, with Lehman on third and Powers on second. A walk was called on Devore, who was hit by a ball. Since the ball and Lehman was waved across the plate. In this the umpire was right though as the rule of the bat in the case a pitcher commits a balk all the base runners shall advance one base.

Another came in the ninth frame, when a Shaw batter was called out on an infield fly and the runner, who had been on third, caught at the plate and the same was called a runner of the losing team argued that only one batter could be retired on this.

Preparations are being made to officially award the championship, the Board of Education gold buttons and the Post-Dispatch team trophy Wednesday morning, commencement day, at the Benton School.

The Post-Dispatch trophy arrived yesterday from Frank M. Hirsch, who it was made from designs submitted by Hess & Culbertson of this city. It will remain on exhibition for a week in the Hirsch's show room, Seventh and St. Charles streets, until Friday.

The trophy consists of a silver shield surmounted by a figure of Victory, on a mahogany mounting, 18 inches high and will be suspended on the wall of the Benton School trophy room for one year, or until some other team wins it.

The conditions of the deed of gift will provide that the trophy must be won three times by the same school, before it becomes the permanent property of any school.

BASEBALL BRIEFS.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, the star right-hander of the Phillies, added another victory to his string yesterday, when he trounced the Pirates, 4-1, in 11 innings. It was the second in a week. Many starts that Alexander forced to give the team number of innings to land the victory. Mammox opposed Alex and his winning streak was broken. The Phillies' star allowed five hits and fanned 12.

Polly Perrett made another futile attempt to win a game yesterday, when he was beaten on the side in four innings by the Giants. The runner and his caped while Poll was on duty. The Giants tied it in the eighth and gained a draw in 10 rounds.

Joe Wood, a member of the $26,000 team of the Red Sox, won through with another good game yesterday and beat the Indians, 11-7. Three of the Red Sox, including Jackson, Graney's single and Jackson's triple gave the only marker of Wood.

During his stay in Chicago Burke appears to have made a good impression and a successful future is predicted for him. Edmund O'Reilly, former well-known wrestler and manager for Mackey McFarland, has engaged to care for Burke's interests, and his experience and the boxing game should be of great help. The promoter has arranged to arrange a match for Burke with Freddy Gilmore, the clever Chicago boxer, to take place in Grand Rapids, Mich., July 1. The promoter has been endeavoring to match Gilmore with Mike Gibbons, but the latter has been unable to make the date, and this he declines to do. Should Gibbons definitely not to accept the bout at that weight, then it is probable the match will be given to Burke.

McFarland Is Through.

Speaking of McFarland, Burke says the Chicago man is the cleverest boxer he has ever seen. He thinks, however, it is doubtful that he will ever again be seen in the ring. He has accomplished about all that he can, and he makes no more money, and he doesn't seem to need any more of that.

Incidentally, Burke's manager, McFarland, is not at all keen for a match with Mike Gibbons, the champion. The result of a meeting with the "St. Paul Phantoms" has him to see where it would be best to go, and he is trying to satisfy the curiosity of a lot of people and critics as to what the match would be. He does not need the last, and the match would involve a grind of training the two fighters, and the public disclaims recent challenges hurled in his name. Gibbons and, says many of the published interviews in the papers, has posed to have criticized Gibbons have been printed without his previous knowledge.

Speaking of himself, Burke says McFarland would like to have him box Jimmy Clabby for eight or ten rounds within the next month. He thinks, however, that the match could be made, and would personally coach him for the event. Burke will remain in St. Louis until sent for by Thiry.

As a preliminary to the main event, the following bouts have been arranged: William Leach, 162 pounds, vs. Pat O'Toole, 6 rounds at 124 pounds; Jimmy Billeman, 6 rounds at 122 pounds.

MARSTON TURNS IN LOW AMATEUR CARD IN 'OPEN' TOURNAMENT

Baltusrol Player's Score Is One Stroke Lower Than Ouimet's in First Medal Round.

SHORT HILLS, N. J., June 15.—Douglas Grant of Richmond, England, the only foreign amateur entrant in the tournament, failed to appear for the opening of the national open golf championship tournament here, this morning. All of the amateur professional national stars of the country were entered.

This morning's play was 18 holes, and the first round score of the morning was turned in by Max R. Marston of Baltusrol, N. J., State champion. Oswald Kirby of Englewood, former metropolitan champion, made the round in 71.

George Sargent, entered from the Chevy Chase Club, Washington, D. C., turned in a card with a score of 70-73, equaling that of R. G. McDonald.

Ouimet and Reid carried the big galleries all the way, turning in a 73 and 74 respectively. Going out Ouimet took 36 and Reid 38. Par for the first nine holes is 37.

TOM BURKE SHOWS CHANGED STYLE IN PRACTICE TRYOUT

St. Louis Middleweight Who Fights Hirsch Here, Tonight, Appears Improved.

M'FARLAND HELPED HIM

Boxing in Chicago With Famous Stock Yards Terror Taught Local Man a Lot.

By Harry S. Sharpe.
Referee of the Future City Athletic Club and the Post-Dispatch's Boxing Authority.

Tommy Burke, the local middleweight who boxed Mike Hirsch of Chicago tonight at the Future City Athletic Club, completed his training with the world's boxing greats.

Burke is in excellent condition. Since his bout here six weeks ago with Gus Gruen, of Milwaukee, Burke has altered his style for the better. Particularly noticeable in this respect is the manner in which he has learned to drop it over with quick, graceful movement and with much better judgment of distance. Then, too, his footwork is greatly improved.

Instead of standing with feet wide apart and jumping in with both arms straight, he has bent his sides forward as he straightens his arm. This, he says, was taught him by Harry McFarland, with whom he had been training here during the weeks he remained in Chicago.

In addition to this, Burke gained considerable experience boxing with men like Willi Schaefer, Jack Richmond, Joe Welling and Tommy Gary, and in 16-round bout he boxed at the Stock Yards. He also boxed with Mike Hirsch, the boxer whom he is to meet here for eight rounds tonight. That bout was a close one, with the shade slightly in favor of Burke.

Hirsch Has Dangerous Right.

Hirsch is a man of abnormal muscular development about the shoulders and chest and swings a right hand that must be avoided. He boxes in a crouch, with left arm extended at full length, and is very aggressive. He is not possessed of a violent boxer, but a dangerous opponent because he is always crowding forward and swings with terrific power. His peculiar style of boxing and the fact that he is 5 feet 8 1/2 inches, makes Burke a hard man for the local boy to handle.

During his stay in Chicago Burke appears to have made a good impression and a successful future is predicted for him. Edmund O'Reilly, former well-known wrestler and manager for Mackey McFarland, has engaged to care for Burke's interests, and his experience and the boxing game should be of great help. During his stay in Chicago Burke appears to have made a good impression and a successful future is predicted for him. Edmund O'Reilly, former well-known wrestler and manager for Mackey McFarland, has engaged to care for Burke's interests, and his experience and the boxing game should be of great help. The promoter has arranged to arrange a match for Burke with Freddy Gilmore, the clever Chicago boxer, to take place in Grand Rapids, Mich., July 1. The promoter has been endeavoring to match Gilmore with Mike Gibbons, but the latter has been unable to make the date, and this he declines to do. Should Gibbons definitely not to accept the bout at that weight, then it is probable the match will be given to Burke.

BOND ISSUE TO PAY FOR STREET WORK DEMANDED

Property Owners Ask for First Time That Charter Provision Be Invoked.

Peter T. Barrett, representing himself and other property owners interested in the improvement of Thekla avenue from Euclid avenue to Bernays avenue, and August Heman, a contractor, appeared before the Board of Public Service today and demanded that the city officials invoke the provisions of the new charter giving the city the power to issue and sell public improvement bonds to pay for the construction work, instead of by special tax bills.

Barrett told the Board of Public Service that the city could save to each taxpayer $27 on each 20-foot lot by providing that this improvement should be paid for by public improvement bonds instead of by special tax bills. This is the first time, since the charter was passed, that the city has been asked by property owners to issue the improvement bonds.

Barrett declared he had been informed by reliable contractors that the city could have saved the taxpayers in the Mill Creek sewer district $800,000 by paying for the work by public improvement bonds instead of by special tax bills.
The contractor who was the successful bidder for the Mill Creek sewer job, Barrett said, had to submit all of his work and was paying the subcontractors in cash. The contractor himself would have to carry all the special tax bills, and it was necessary for him to have strong financial backing in order to undertake the job.

Money Saved to Taxpayers.
Barrett estimated that the public improvement bonds, which are merely insured against the special tax bills without the city assuming any liability for their payment, would save the contractors, and consequently the taxpayers, from 15 to 20 per cent in the cost of street and other improvements. These bonds could be sold at par by the city he said, and the contractor could be paid in cash, or, if he preferred in the bonds, which the contractor could in turn sell for par.

Payments in Equal Installments.
"These bonds," Barrett said, would be payable in equal, annual installments, thus reducing the amount of indebtedness each year, and increasing the security for the balance of the indebtedness. The bonds may have a fixed price, prescribed by ordinance, at which they shall be sold,
to prevent them from being sold too cheaply.

"The Board of Aldermen may, by ordinance recommended by the Board of Public Service, appropriate out of the general revenue sufficient money in advance to pay such part of the improvement bond issue as the proceeds of the special assessment may prove insufficient to pay as they fall due, not exceeding 10 per cent of the amount of such bond issue, and provide for the reimbursement of the city out of the proceeds of the special assessment.

"The Board of Aldermen may also,
on recommendation of the Board of Public Service, provide for a local improvement fund out of which the city shall pay to the contractor the cost of such improvements, and for the levy, assessment and collection of such special assessments to cover cost, the proceeds of the assessment shall be paid into this fund.

Discount on Tax Bills Saved.
"For the sake of the contractor
it is pointed out that the contractor will not be compelled to pay the interest charges while carrying on the work;
and save the discount usually charged for the sale of special tax bills. The banks usually charge the contractors 8 per cent interest on loans for moneys advanced for labor and material, and for special tax bills running from five to seven years, a discount from 8 to 10 per cent is usually charged, and it is very difficult to sell them even at this price.
The contractor, in figuring upon the job necessarily includes, as items of expense, the interest he will have to pay to the bank and the discount charges upon the sale of the tax bills, and to the entire cost add his percentage of profit.

"By the bond or cash method the contractor would get all his money
as the work progressed, and the balance upon completion of the work, thus eliminating the charges for interest and discount, thereby enabling him
to bid much lower for the work.
Property Owner Would Benefit.

"By the bond or cash method, the property-owner would get the benefit of the lower bid, and it would not cost the city or property holders outside of the district 1 cent.

"Bankers prefer the bond to the special tax bills because they can sell the bonds to the customers, but as special tax bills are not negotiable, they are required to hold them for the full period,
thus tying up a large amount of capital that they will be unable to turn over, as they could do in the case of bonds.

"I was informed by Louis Deendorff, cashier of the Cass Avenue Bank, who handled some of those improvement
bonds for work in the State of Arkansas, and was familiar with the same,
that he believed such bonds in the City of St. Louis would sell for par."

TODAY'S BEAUTY SUGGESTIONS

Face powder simply covers up an unattractive complexion and leaves no lasting benefits. Those who have tried a simple spermaceti face lotion find it much better, as it removes skin discolorations, such as freckles and tan, and makes the skin smooth, white and velvety. This lotion is made by dissolving four ounces of spermaceti in one-half pint hot water,
then adding two teaspoonsful glycerin. This complexion beautifier does not rub off or show like powder, and gives a more refined appearance. It removes both shininess and sallowess, rapidly giving the skin
a permanent beauty, youthful appearance.

An especially fine shampoo for this weather can be had at trifling expenses by dissolving a teaspoonful of cantharox in a cup of hot water.
Pour slowly on soap and massage briskly. This creates a soothing lather that dissolves and removes all dandruff, excess oil and dirt. Rinsing leaves the scalp spotlessly clean, soft and pliant, while the hair takes on a glossy richness of natural color, also a fluffiness which makes it seem very much heavier than it is. After a cantharox shampoo, arranging the hair is a pleasure.—ADV.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

For a Smokeless City.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Now that the Parkway is temporarily out of the limelight, this seems a fitting time to agitate that important issue, the smoke evil. The former was a constructive proposition, with public opinion divided; but, regarding the desirability of smoke abatement, there would be no dissenting vote. Even the most ardent Parkway advocates have never estimated the resultant benefits in dollars and cents, as such, but, from a patriotic point of view, it would have saved to St. Louis by abolishing smoke. Truly, it's a "burning question" in every sense—a question of such vast economic importance as to warrant a city-wide, ceaseless and relentless campaign. In respect to property destruction averted and public health conserved, the Parkway movement, however meritorious, dwarfs in comparison with one looking to a smokeless city. Surely the problem is solvable. This letter is penned in the hope that it may prove an entering wedge, and be the humble means of starting an anti-smoke fight which will never cease until the smoke nuisance is abolished. Perhaps some inventive genius in our midst may show us the way; if so, this generation and those to follow will "call him blessed."

A SMOKE-HATER.

British Little.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
It is said that until the recent shakeup in the British Cabinet the people of London had considered the war of no significance. It is easy now to understand why there are militant suffragists. They have only been trying to wake up Mr. Bull.

AMERICAN.

Leo Frank Case.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
About three years ago I read in your newspaper about a "Mendel Beilus," who was accused in Russia of killing a Christian child. When Mendel Beilus was finally declared innocent he came out a broken man, with shattered hopes and ambitions, caused by the two years of terrible hardships and sufferings.

A case of the same standing is taking place now in America. The only difference is that the Mendel Beilus case took place in Russia. A country noted for its barbarism and shedding of innocent Jewish blood in the past years, and even now.

The Frank case is now taking place in America, a country of culture and famous for its religious toleration! Why are they persecuting Leo Frank? Why have they refused his plea for justice? Why has he been suffering for the last two years? Why? Because he is a Jew! If they will hang Leo Frank because he is a Jew they will add to America's good reputation a red stain which will be very hard to wash away!

LOUIS GOODMAN.

Grape Juice and Lager Beer.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
True it is that "Politics make strange bedfellows." Bryan and the hyphenated Germans, not forgetting Brother Bartholdi; grape juice and lager beer. The trouble with Bryan is that the President has overshadowed him in every respect.

S. L. MORRIS.

Fresh Tomatoes at the Workhouse.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Following the so-called food strike at the workhouse and in which the "strikers" won, I read the following, Saturday: "They receive beef hash three nights a week and apple sauce and rice four nights. Beginning tonight macaroni and fresh tomatoes will supplant the apple sauce and rice."

If coddling of criminals continues, more, it seems, are going to break into jail than ordinarily do.

Fresh tomatoes! Yum! Yum!
My wife, self and three youngsters are still eating the canned variety and are much obliged, thank you.

TAXPAYER.

Playgrounds for Downtown Children.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Having read in your valuable paper that a kind gentleman turned over his property that was used as a junk pile to be used as a playground, I wonder why the poor little children who have to live in the neighborhood of Fourth and Market could not make use of the School Board's property located there? Often when I have had occasion to pass this neighborhood I have seen children playing in the streets with a little sand that was left by some company when they had finished some street work. Now, why couldn't one and one be put together—empty lot and a pile of sand, so the little children could have a playground.

AN ONLOOKER.

"PACIFISM'S POLTROONERY."
In a letter to Hiram Maxim, dated June 3 and read at a meeting of the "National Security League" on Flag day at New York, Mr. Roosevelt uses again his now rather worn phrase about "Pontius Pilate, the arch-typical neutral of all times."

He makes a new classification of Americans. One class apparently includes all those who do not want war and the second class all others. The former, he believes, "are probably the most undesirable citizens that this country contains," at best "an unlovely body of men." He indicts them further in this:

The advocates of pacifism have been preaching pacifism. Such preaching, if reduced to practice, is ruinous to national character. To leave no doubt as who the "advocates of pacifism" are he tells us whom he means. They are those who have "pushed the mischievous and arbitration treaties at Washington." They are those who have commanded "our criminal inactivity as regards Mexico." Others, most remarkable subdivision of all, are those who have "applauded our abject failure to live up to our obligations imposed as a signatory power of The Hague convention." This "abject failure," judging from Roosevelt's utterances elsewhere, kept us from going to war with Germany over Belgium.

Whatever strength in public thought may be represented by Mr. Roosevelt in such statements, a test is coming of its soundness that will be crucial and conclusive. The events of the world war will give the decision between him and those he denounces.

Looking back from the date on which the war ends, the public will be able to judge whether it would have been wiser to guide the country as Mr. Roosevelt would guide it or as Mr. Wilson actually has guided it. The companies' refusal to show their books, in proof of their claim they can't afford the wage increase demanded, is offset by the employees' refusal to accept arbitration by a committee of three—one to be chosen by the companies, one by the employees, one by the Mayor acting for the public.

The strikers' further announcement that they won't interfere with the running of one car daily on each line, to prevent forfeiture of franchises, or stop mail cars, leaves the broad inference they do mean, by violence if necessary, to prevent a normal service. They thus propose to wage a lawless war of loss and discomfort upon the public as a means of forcing the companies to surrender.

But speaking from the light of the present, did not Mr. Wilson, in his Flag day address, seem to give the truer interpretation of the genius and history of the American people? He said that those who had led the nation in the past were "men of sober, quiet thought," which thought was more effective because "there was not a bluster in it." "There was not," he said referring to these leaders, "a swashbuckler among them."

"Righteousness must be put before peace," shouted Mr. Roosevelt. The alternative is not a righteousness that will be placed after peace. The meaning of the national life and greatness, Mr. Wilson found in the "endeavors of a great people to do the tasks of the day," "to live up to the ideals of honesty and righteousness and just conduct." These are the things from which America's grandeur, like Old Scotia's springs, such as speak of such imposed.

The thing to do, and to do promptly, before violent outbreaks begin, is for the city to go into the proper court and get an order transferring temporary control of the street railway properties to the municipality. This is the logical answer by any city to a declaration of civil war between rival groups of men upon whom it has conferred the privilege of rendering a public service for profit. With the city government in control of the lines, cars will run and the warring factions will quickly be glad to accept fair arbitration based upon a thorough study of all the facts from the records.

A Woman's Faith

The story of a wild-cat gold mine that turns out to be a good one in time to save the promoter from moral degradation and the loss of his sweetheart.

By Harold Carter.

Now that the moment for action had arrived Jim Corrigan felt his courage oozing away. All he had to do was to take the packed suit case that lay underneath his desk, go out of the door, jump on a street car, and make his way to any railroad depot.

Yet during the three months in which he had lived in princely style at the Repington Hotel, and spent his days in the mahogany-furnished offices, a sort of attachment to his environment had grown up in him. Somehow he had begun to feel a sense of respectability. He hated to lose the esteem of these good people, who were already thanking him publicly for the good he had done the town, for the fact that he was going to start, who had openly broached his name for the Mayoralty office.

And then there was Della—delicious, sweet, just the bride for a worthy man. Della, with her inherited hundred thousand dollars, which had not spoiled her, Della, who unmistakably liked him, and had placed her whole capital in the Red Lion mine.

The man felt the sweat start out on his forehead.

He opened the door and looked in at the stenographer's room. At once the young woman began hammering harder, the bill-folders accentuated their speed and worked self-consciously. The eye of their boss was upon them.

And all this was to be shattered like the crystal of a dream. For Jim Corrigan would be an outcast in 20 minutes. He had been tipped off that the Federal authorities intended to raid his office at the national bank here. I can vouch for Mr. Corrigan's honor."

The officer, without paying the slightest attention, began to rummage among the papers on Jim's desk. The stenographers and other girls in the large room adjoining, having got wind of what was happening, appeared at the door with frightened faces.

"Mr. Corrigan—Jim, dear, I believe in you to the last!" cried Della, losing all self-control. She came up to him and slipped her hand into his and stood defiantly beside him.

Jim smiled a little wistfully. At that moment this was the hardest thing that he had to bear, her truthfulness. If only he had gone before she came!

"What's this?" queried the officer, picking up the telegram.

The Inner Shame.

Jim had forgotten Clancy's message. He groaned as the man deftly opened it. Clancy was always outspoken, and he was no more careful in his dispatches. That meant the end of all, of Della, of what shreds of honor he had hoped to retain after the investigation.

Corrigan had given the girl every reason to believe he loved her, but he had not asked her to be his wife. Della had waited, a little curious, but not doubting him.

"What, Della?" exclaimed the man. "How do you do, Mr. Corrigan?" said the girl, smiling. "I haven't come to trouble you about my money. That's all, I know. It is as safe as my life in you."

"Her faith in him." And Clancy had graphed that the state inspector of the West was to visit the mine the day before this, and that his discovery of the fraud would be followed by a raid from the Federal authorities. Of course panic seized him. He wanted to get away, before the authorities came down on him.

"I was shopping," continued the girl, "and mother asked me to get you to come to dinner tonight. So I just looked in."

"Yes, I'll come," muttered Corrigan, conscious that he was speaking abruptly, and seeing the surprised look on her face. "Excuse me—I'm very busy!"

The girl made a haughty little bow.

"If you are busy, Mr. Corrigan, of course I won't detain you any longer," she said, moving toward the door.

Jim Corrigan forgot everything. "Forgive me," he pleaded, catching her hands in his. "I didn't mean that. Della, I was troubled—I was not able to say that."

WOMEN SHAVE UNKNOWNLY

When women are so unwise as to use so-called hair removers, they actually shave unknowingly because such preparations stimulate hair growth after each removal.

The proper way to remove hair is to devitalize it. It is impossible to accomplish this result with pastes and rub-on preparations, because they only remove hair from the surface of the skin. De Miracle, the original liquid depilatory, devitalizes hair by attacking it under the skin as well as on the skin.

Imitations of De Miracle are as worthless as pastes and rub-on preparations, because they lack certain ingredients that De Miracle alone contains, which give it the power to rob hair of its vitality—its life sustaining force.

Buy a bottle of the genuine De Miracle today, and you will get the original liquid hair remover. Others are worthless imitations—refuse them. Remember, you are not asked to buy De Miracle on a mere promise of your money being refunded. De Miracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package, which entitles you to the refund of your money if it fails.

De Miracle is sold in three sizes, 50c, $1.00 and $2.00 bottles. The larger sizes are the most economical for dermatologists and large users to buy. If your dealer will not supply you, order direct from us. The truth about the treatment of superfluous hair mailed in plain sealed envelope on request. De Miracle Chemical Co., Dept. ## The Golden Gnome

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

GEORGE's father was a truck gardener near a big city. Every day after school the boy had to help prepare the vegetables for market; and fill the big wagon with barrels of potatoes and crates of eggs. Then on Saturday at dawn he and his father were up to a breakfast by lamplight and a long drive into town.

One April night when George went to bed he decided to wake very early and run away to the city. As he lay with the moonlight making the room bright all day he planned out his future. "I will make money when I get to town," he said. "Money is all that makes life worth living. If I have enough money I would be perfectly happy and care for nothing else in the world."

Then he noticed that his room looked strange. In the moonlight it had seemed to be a silvery white, but now it appeared as if filled with a golden mist that grew thicker and thicker. Then this mist took on a solid shape, and he could see it was the figure of a small crooked man—all of gold. His skin, his hair, his clothing—all were of shining metal.

"I am the Golden Gnome, boy," said the little man. "I was floating by your window and heard your remark. Do for me a favor and you shall receive the gift of the golden touch. Bring me the tiny baby slipper that your mother treasures so—the one that belonged to your little sister who died—and I will give you this reward. It will mean that all you touch will turn to gold."

GEORGE was amazed. He knew his mother valued that tiny baby slipper more than all the wealth of the world, but what matter. If the gnome wanted it and he could get all the gold he wished in return, why, he would do it.

So he sneaked down and soon returned with the baby shoe, which he placed in the gnome's hands.

"I have all the gold I wish," grunted the gnome. "What I desired was something treasured by a human heart. You have given me what your mother holds dearest in the world. In return give your right hand touches shall turn to gold," and the Golden Gnome floated away out of the window in his shimmering mist of yellow.

George sprang up and grabbed a chair. It grew heavy, hard, and golden in his hands. So with his left hand he put on his clothing. Then he ran down to the kitchen. Without thinking he grabbed hold of the door with his right hand, and it swung back a door of shining yellow metal.

Sandman story of the little boy who finds out that money can be as much a detriment as it is a blessing.

"Gracious," cried George. "This is fine, but I must be careful how I act—my right hand will yet be in trouble." So with his left hand he fed the stock. Then his mother called him to breakfast. So hungry was he that he took his bread in his right hand and bit into a lump of gold.

Once again he forgot and took his cup with his right hand and it became a cup of gold, and the coffee hard metal. He took his handkerchief out of his pocket—it dropped heavily to the earth of gold. So did his knife, and even the egg he tried to eat. Things began to look unpleasant.

WEFRI the gold he bought a fine home, great stables and rich clothing, but life was a burden for fear of using his right hand. At night at supper his mother tripped and he threw out his right hand to catch her—she turned at once into a statue of gold that grew thicker and thicker. Then this statue took on a solid shape, and he could see it was the figure of a small crooked man—all of gold. His skin, his hair, his clothing—all were of shining metal.

"I am the Golden Gnome, boy," said the little man. "I was floating by your window and heard your remark. Do for me a favor and you shall receive the gift of the golden touch. ## The Great Famine.

THE worst famines of modern times were the famine in Ireland in 1846-7, in which 1,000,000 people perished; the Indian famine in 1866, which claimed 1,450,000 victims; the Indian famine in 1873, in which 500,000 people perished, and the great famine in China in 1873, in which 5,000,000 perished.

QUEER TALES FROM HERE AND THERE

FANK TILLY, a farmer in Buhl, Minn., imitated an owl which he heard hooting in the nearby woods. He went into the house and a few minutes later heard a crash, and an agonized mew of his prize cat on the porch. Tilly ran to the veranda in time to see the owl fluttering away with the cat firmly clutched in its claws.

BILLY SUNDAY'S SECRETARY QUILTS REVIVALS STAFF

Evangelist's Right-Hand Man Ackley May Tell "Inside" of Organization's System.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Bentley D. Ackley, for eight years right-hand man and secretary to Evangelist Billy Sunday, also piano player in the work, has resigned and thereby hangs a tale. Whether it will be told or not depends on Ackley. He said today: "I'll never work with the Sunday party again. I've nothing against Billy Sunday. I have, on the other hand, a great deal of affection for him. But there are other features of the work which I couldn't tolerate longer. That is all I can say now. There has been absolutely no question between us. I simply desire to cut loose from some things which did not fit with my ideas of the organization as a whole."

It is said that the financial side of the revival system as it was operated here is the real issue that prompted Ackley to quit the Sunday organization. The basis of Ackley's resentment is that, while he received a salary of $75 per week, Homer Rodeheaver made $20,000 during the Philadelphia revival, a good percentage of which was derived from the sale of hymn books of which Ackley was the composer.

Sunday's former secretary is preparing to go into the publishing business, and, according to a current report, which he refused to deny, he is preparing an article for publication which will be in the nature of an exposure of the inside workings of the revival system.

Walter Fenley, an intimate of Ackley, called to see him today, and later said: "Mr. Ackley's resignation has followed that of the Rev. Edward H. Emmett, assistant to W. A. Sunday. The resignations, I understand, have come through difficulties with the evangelist's son, George M. Sunday, who has been a discordant note in the organization. He is doing advance work for his father in Omaha, where a campaign is open."

Fenley further stated that Homer Rodeheaver would remain with Sunday as choir leader and that in the future the evangelist's son, George, would have come through difficulties with the evangelist's son, George M. Sunday, who has been a discordant note in the organization. He is doing advance work for his father in Omaha, where a campaign is open.

One of the charges made by Ackley was that only recently he entered into an agreement with the revival trombonist to give several recitals in this city and that the "Eddo" paid for his share of the proceeds. Ackley gave me a "but I never got a penny. He gave me a few presents, that was all."

THE POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

VIOLENT BREAK IS RECORDED IN EXCHANGE RATES

Bills on London Drop to 4.763%, the Lowest Figure Touched in Years.

Granby Mining Co. Pays a Dividend.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co., which is incorporated in Canada, has paid a dividend of 10% on the stock at the regular rate of $1.00 per share. This is the second dividend paid by the company last year, when the directors decided to suspend the dividends because of the adverse conditions and the small working capital of the company.

By Lensed Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review, today says:

"Today, as yesterday, the market for cotton in London held the center of the financial stage. From yesterday's closing rate of 4.77% to 4.77%, the astonishing decline occurred, too, in the afternoon session, which reflected continued demoralization of that market, and what may be described as a convulsive movement in favor of this country."

"This rate, it will be observed, is 10% per pound sterling below the normal minimum, and more than the price of raw cotton, therefore, reflects a depreciation, on the usual basis of economic measurement, of nearly 2 per cent. Nothing like this has occurred in the market for cotton for the current year, and the market is in a state of abnormal decline in sterling at New York, in 1873 and 1887, was due to entirely different causes. In 1873, the market was 10% lower in New York than in London, but the difference in the ability to buy sterling bills, while handicapped by panic conditions at home. The difficulty now arises from London's position with regard to New York in the best imaginable position to pay the purchase price.

Banks Receive More Gold.

This extraordinary demand for sterling in London, on the face of another transfer of $2,000,000 gold from the Bank of England's Ottawa reserve, has been attributed to the effect of the "Out" on the Pacific Coast.

It is difficult not to associate the movement of international exchange, the transfer of a large amount of gold in Parliament, with England confronted with a situation unparalleled in the history of the country. The wonder is to be made on the energies of the nation which can now afford to be measured.

The franklin has much to command it and the stubborn determination of Lombard street to settle its dues in gold from the Bank of England.

The market is in a position of an example of adherence to sound principles. But the question is beginning to be asked, whether it is not ignorant.

"England has still her enormous reserve of investment in English capital, and the security of these securities refuse to sell. It may be at least conjectured that the act of handing over the plan of transfering their capital from the transport of nation to whose strong and powerful ally, France, is to be seen as a factor in the exchange rates testifies to other securities directly subjected to the vicissitudes of European war. At all events, the English market is in a position which, in the opinion of the experts, is the problem of the depreciation in exchange must be settled on a larger scale. It was suggested, among others, today, that the gold deliveries might be diverted to New York, thereby avoiding the particular hazards of the French war. Yet, the English

own production of gold is only $15,000,000

monthly, and New York is received much from Canada, last week alone.

"In this face of this bewildering movement of exchange on London—with international bankers holding only in London, and the market in New York

happening in that market—next our own

Stock Exchange did nothing. As a rule prices held firm, though without any forward impulse, and with a few declines.

"Briefly summed up, the feeling seemed to be that the same situation, in a tangible respect, involved in the sterling market's movement, but that an element of singular perplexity had been injected into the general situation, and the price of gold was quiet

from opening to close."

"The day's general news contributed little. Last week's excess of merchandises was $2,000,000 less than in the week preceding, and was with one exception, the smallest of any week this year. The excess for the present month to date, has been three times the highest rate of excess ever before achieved in June.

The Jarr Family

Mrs. Jarr Takes a Costly Lesson
in "Feminine Frenzied Finance."

"GOT any change?" asked Mrs. Jarr at the breakfast table.
"I have not," said Mrs. Jarr.
"I don't see how I'm going to get downtown this morning, then," said Mr. Jarr. There was a silence of a few minutes, and then Mrs. Jarr said:

"Can't you borrow from somebody?"

"Whom?" asked Mr. Jarr.

"I'm sure I don't know," said Mrs. Jarr. "You could get it from your friend Gus, at the corner—then you wouldn't have to pay it back."

"Why do you say my friend?" asked Mr. Jarr. "Well, maybe you're right," he continued. "Gus may run a ginnill, but he might be a good friend at that, and for more than a little change to take me downtown; but why do you say I wouldn't need to pay it back?"

"Because you spend enough money there, that's why," said Mrs. Jarr. "I'm sure I wouldn't pay it back."

"Women never pay anything back," said Mr. Jarr. "I wonder why."

"They do enough for people, why should they pay anything back?" replied Mrs. Jarr. "But I do not see where all your money goes. I suppose I'll have to give you my money, but I think it's mean of you, because I need every cent this week."

"My money is your money," said Mr. Jarr. "Why shouldn't your money be mine?"

"Because it isn't," said Mrs. Jarr. "A husband's money is his wife's, but her money is her own."

"But is it justice?" asked Mr. Jarr. "It's sensible. A man would just get all the money, and a woman gets hers."

"To spend?" suggested Mr. Jarr.

"Why, yes, of course," said Mrs. Jarr:

"What else is money for?"

"Could you let me have $5?" asked Mr. Jarr.

"Certainly not. I haven't $5 to my name; where could I get $5; what do you want with $5; do you mean to say you spend $5 every day?" asked Mrs. Jarr all in one breath.

"No," replied Mr. Jarr. "But it's only the middle of the week, and I need money for carfare, luncheon and incidental expenses."

"Well, you'll have to get it from somebody else," said Mrs. Jarr. "I can let you have a quarter, that's plenty. Five dollars! The idea!"

"I hate to break a $10 bill," said Mr. Jarr. "I've been trying not to break it since Monday, but I guess I must. If I give you the $10 will you give me five?"

"Why, certainly," said Mrs. Jarr. "Why didn't you say so before?" and she produced a bill like a magician, seemingly out of the air.

"Oh," she said, as she looked at it. "This is a $10 bill. I'll send the girl out and get it changed."

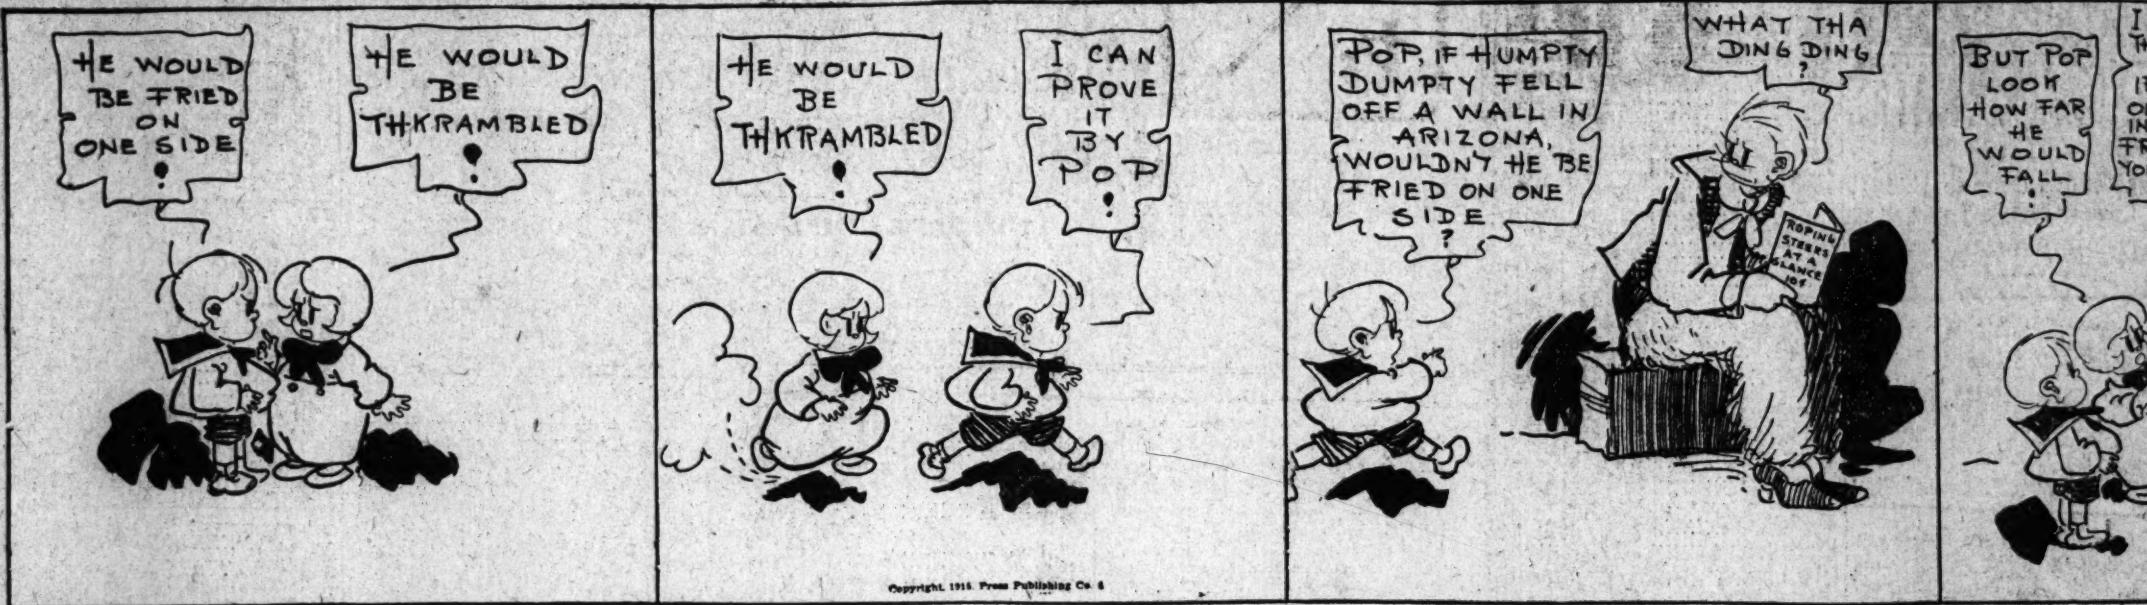

"I thought you had it," said Mr. Jarr, quietly.

"Well, you are so careless with your money it falls out of your pockets onto the floor."

"That $10 bill didn't," said Mr. Jarr. "It was in my top pocket."

"I've seen money fall out of your pockets," replied Mrs. Jarr, evasively. "I don't see what you want with $5," said Mrs. Jarr, when the girl brought her the change. "Two dollars would do you nicely."

"Oh, all right," said Mr. Jarr. And then Mrs. Jarr handed him a dollar and a half, explaining she needed some small change as she was going downtown later. "And," she added, "you see how your money goes; you had $10 and now it's all gone."

"All right," said Mr. Jarr. "If you'd looked closer you would have seen a $20 bill," and he flashed this in triumph.

"Here's your $5!" said Mrs. Jarr quickly. "Now give me my money!"

"She got it, too. But she afterward told Mrs. Rangie that the best man in the world will hold money out on a good write.

A LITTLE girl from Boston whose home was near a pond went on a visit when she was 4 years old.

The aunt she was visiting said, "I'll take you to see the ocean."

"I will look at your ocean," replied the little girl in a very condescending manner: "but we have a pond at home."

The Other End.

THOSE bees of yours are awfully hot-headed, aren't they?" said the man who had just been stung.

"Quite the contrary, I assure you," said the beekeeper.

"Why, certainly," said Mrs. Jarr.

"Why didn't you say so before?" and she produced a bill like a magician, seemingly out of the air.

"That $10 bill didn't," said Mr. Jarr. "It was in my top pocket."
